cohort to the factory in Crewe to begin their extraordinary journey on the early careers programme.

Dr. Karen Lange, Member of the Board for Human Resources at Bentley Motors, commented:

“As we embrace the exciting shift to electrification and redefine luxury in the automotive industry, we are seeking an exceptional talent pool that we can promise will be fully supported, trained and inspired to shape their future career path, and that of Bentley Motors.

“We are committed to attracting talent from all backgrounds and experiences who share our passion for innovation, excellence, and craftsmanship and we look forward to working closely with our latest cohort to help deliver exactly that together.”

Of the 150 2025 roles, 26 are for three or four-year Apprenticeship positions, 20 are two-year Graduate roles, and 104 are for 12-month Industrial Placements.

One of the 2024 cohort who has recently joined, Anish Partab, a Vehicle Motion Industrial Placement, said:

“I wanted to join Bentley Motors because I am excited that the company is driving towards electrification. As my degree is in Robotics, I am eager to work on new innovations. I’ve never worked in the automotive industry before so I am looking forward to applying my skills and knowledge, whilst learning from industry leading experts.”

Notes to editors

Bentley Motors is the most sought-after luxury car brand in the world. The company's headquarters in Crewe is home to all of its operations including design, R&D, engineering, Mulliner and production of the company's five model lines, Continental GT, Continental GT Convertible, Flying Spur, Bentayga and Bentayga EWB. The combination of fine craftsmanship, using skills that have been handed down through generations, alongside engineering expertise and cutting-edge technology is unique to UK luxury car brands such as Bentley. It is also an example of high-value British manufacturing at its best. Bentley employs around 4,000 people at Crewe.
