"For more than 100 years, our people have been the foundation of Bentley's success, and we are incredibly proud to once again be recognised as a UK Top Employer. Our colleagues are the driving force behind our achievements, and their dedication, diversity, and determination are what enables us to deliver extraordinary experiences for our customers across the world.

"We're embarking on the most transformative chapter in our company's history, as we look to offer a fully electric product portfolio by 2035, so it's crucial that we continue with our focus on collaboration and leveraging our collective skills to drive innovation and create lasting, positive change."
